ANNOUNCEMENTS

See the ladies' $2.50 black and rus-set exfords Frank A. Bill offers.

This mixing or ashes and garbage was concerned by the dectors of the town in Mayor Carpenter's time, and it was made a fineble offense to put garbage in the ash cans. The city for years has been violating its own ordinance, and is now making land with it hall parts of the town. The doctors of two decades ago were all mis-"Dickens' Children." Dickens' children in tableaux to be given at the Park church parish house Saturday afternoon. Cake, candy and patted plants will be on sale. See adv. BREED THEATER.

"The Girl and Her Trust," Most Thriffing Biograph Picture Ever Made.

For today at the Breed, the great feature picture is entitled The Girl and Her Frant, and is a sterling Blograph attraction. Grace, the little operator at Hillville, learns that $2,000 will arat rinvine, learns that $2,000 Win arrives on the next train. The train arrives and the money deposited in the chest in the scation but the act is seen by two tramps. They wait until the station agent has gone, and make for the strong box. The key is in the possession of the girl, so they in the possession of the girl, so they grasp the box and load it on a hand car. The girl has telegraphed to the nearest station, then rushes out and throws herself on the track in front of the hand car. Her act compels the tramps to stop, and they take her on the car with them, and are off again. They are soon pursued by an engine and here occurs the most thrilling pursuit ever depicted.

Splennid travel pictures are introduced, showing the Kalem cast on their interesting trip to Gibraliar. The comedy shows an Essanay production, entitled Alkail Ike Bests Broncho Billing periments at Rockefeller.

Price in Norwich Market.

Mr. Editor: I read your article on he high price of meat this morning, that how year quotation of the local cholesate market, which I think should the optroted. For instance, the price of beef in the carcass, first quality, quoted at 12c per pound, costs here 13c per pennd. Foing lambs quoted at 15c cost here 17c. These prices are for the high grade beef and lamb, of which there is only little to be had. The lower grades cost but a trifle less. We are led to believe that these prices

PERFECT LOVE CASTETH OUT

As side by side they traveled through Strong in a love that daily grow in So they together faced their final with hearts whose steadfast courage conquerted fears.
Eager for life, yet dauntless volunteers Among the ranks of death. So great deeds flower
From scenes of tragedy. So great souls tower
About the grave and bid us dry our tears:

And womanhood throughout the world must thrill Before the glory of that sacrifice To love and loyalty. The ready will That chose to die rather than pay the price For life, and thus upon its latest breath Proved to mankind love's triumph over death!

Certain kinds of medieval "Venetian glasses" were popularly supposed to fly to pieces if poisoned liquor were to he pieces if poisoned liquor were poured into them. In contrast, also dating from the old days, were glasses which poisoned all who drank from them. The poison was orystallized at the bottom of the glass, from which it was indistinguishable, and as it dissolved very slowly it could be used many times with deadly effect. Some such glasses can be seen at the British museum, and every collector knows that it is never quite safe to use med-leval glass for drinking purposes with-leap year privileges for women are few. Here is one, from Walsh's "Courtship, Love and Marriage," 1606: Albeit it is now become a part of the common law, in regard to social relation of life, that, as often as any bissextill year do return, the ladies have the sole privilege, during the time it continueth, of making love unto the man which they may do either to the men, which they may do either by words or looks as to them it seemoth proper; and, moreover, no man will be entitled to the benefit of cler-gy who doth in anywise treat her pro-posal with slight or contumely."

Roger Crab, the hermit and astrologer, almost solved the problem how to live without eating. About 1641 he hegan to restrict himself to a vegetarian diet, avoiding even butter and cheese. From roots he got to a vegetarian diet of broth, thickened with brin, and pudding made of bran and turnin leaves chopped together, and he turnip leaves chopped together, and he THERE is no cave-tising medium in and lived for nearly farty year.
